

The Labyrinth Society Virtual Gathering
Saturday, September 26, 2020

10:30 am – 10:00 pm EDT

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed many ways in which we gather in 2020. The Labyrinth Society Annual Gathering that was originally planned for 2020 has been postponed to autumn 2021. In its place, this year we will be gathering virtually using Zoom online video conferencing. While this is a new platform for TLS, we are very excited to be able to engage an even wider and more diverse participation of labyrinth enthusiasts from around the world.

A Letter from the Labyrinth Society President

The journey of the Labyrinth Society (TLS) is very similar to that of a labyrinth walk. The “labyrinth landscape” has changed significantly since the Labyrinth Society’s inception in 1998 as a U.S. nonprofit 501c3 organization. At that time when someone mentioned “labyrinth,” a blank stare or a quizzical expression usually followed.

Today, after all these years of TLS members among others sharing labyrinths with the world, labyrinths have become more mainstream, and there are people all over the world building labyrinths. Our Facebook group has almost 10,000 members from all over the world, and there are posts in German, Dutch, Spanish, and other languages as well as English. Each of these people touches countless others. TLS has accomplished its goal of bringing labyrinths to the world. Now what?

The Labyrinth Society is evolving to meet the changing needs of the growing worldwide labyrinth community and connect people around the world in more meaningful ways. Although the TLS mission, “to support all those who create, maintain and use labyrinths, and to serve the global community by providing education, networking and opportunities to experience transformation,” has not changed, the ways in which we address that mission are changing. Our vision is to reflect the abundant diversity, inclusivity, and creativity of the worldwide labyrinth community through our membership, operating structure, and programs.

Won’t you be a part of that change? TLS is staffed primarily by volunteers who give many hours of service because of their love of labyrinths. In addition to the tangible benefits, members receive the larger benefit of knowing that you are part of a diverse and growing community of individuals around the world who probably have only one thing in common: their love of labyrinths. Your membership supports many TLS initiatives, such as our website, podcasts, videos, and digital publications, social media, the Worldwide Labyrinth Locator, the Labyrinth Market, various TLS resources and materials, and the annual Gathering.

Will I meet you on the path?

Kay Whipple, TLS President

About The Labyrinth Society (TLS)

OUR MISSION STATEMENT: The Labyrinth Society is an international organization whose mission is to support all those who create, maintain, and use labyrinths, and to serve the global community by providing education, networking, and opportunities to experience transformation.

Brief History of TLS

The Labyrinth Society was born on Thursday, November 6, 1998, by unanimous agreement of the 43 Founding Circle members present at the Caroline Conference and Retreat Center in St. Louis. We celebrated with a birthday cake the following night: 11-7 was an auspicious date for labyrinth festivities. Since that time, we have held annual gatherings, created a communications network through the website, sponsored two symposiums in Europe, annually sponsored World Labyrinth Day, created a video, and conducted many other projects too numerous to mention here. This is just the beginning. We are continuing to create The Labyrinth Society's history every day, with each step on the path.

Education Outreach

The responsibility of Education Outreach is to spread knowledge about labyrinths and TLS. As we update our website to reflect the significant changes in our organization and to make learning about and sharing transformational labyrinthine experiences easier, Education Outreach has been updating its section of the website. In the new website, what used to be called "Labyrinths in Places" will become "Labyrinths in Use." The expanding world of our international organization is growing in exciting new ways as volunteers, Regional Representatives and our creative members explore the endless possibilities of labyrinth use. We are currently looking at possible programs that will further interconnect the leadership circle, share and expand the knowledge of labyrinths, and make TLS better than ever. We also have a new, wonderful digital publication honoring our 20th anniversary available on our website to be used as a teaching tool, a historical document, and an introduction to the inner workings of our successful organization. Stay tuned as we move into the future!

Energy Keepers

The Energy Keepers are a very dedicated and active group of volunteers within the Labyrinth Society. They offer loving support to all members, being there for each other through life's transitions, challenges, and celebrations. The healing power of prayer is well documented, and receiving the loving energy of more than 100 steadfast hearts and minds can have a powerful impact on any adverse situation. Requests for support and energy are made by email and then distributed to the growing number of Energy Keepers who are spread out around the world. Energy Keepers come from every walk of life and represent all religious faiths. To make an energy request or to join, contact: energykeepers@labyrinthsociety.org.

Online Auction

TLS usually holds an annual online auction to raise money for the general operating fund. The online auction gives our members another opportunity to showcase their products or artwork or share special items with the world while supporting a cause they believe in. Donating is easy and bidding is fun!

Publications and Media

TLS produces a variety of publications throughout the year for its membership. Publications enable TLS to communicate vital information to members regarding various updates, events, and general membership information. In addition, they provide an opportunity for our membership to share their labyrinth-related work with a variety of audiences. Publications include the Labyrinth Society eNews, the Labyrinth Pathways journal, and Caerdroia: the Journal of Mazes and Labyrinths, published by Labyrinthos. Our podcasts and multimedia productions shine a light on what the organization and its members are doing.

Regional Representatives

Our network of Regional Representatives can assist you in many ways. They themselves are gifted leaders in their own communities and beyond able to connect you to labyrinth information, other members, support or facilitate labyrinth workshops, walks and more. Make a point of knowing who your closest Regional Rep is, they are resourceful people to contact for assistance. A list of Regional Reps is provided on the TLS web site. If you have questions or would like to become a Regional Rep, please contact: reps@labyrinthosociety.org

Research

TLS encourages research about labyrinths, knowing that our members have interest in diverse fields such as mental/physical health, education, ritual, mindfulness, art/creativity, spirituality, workplace environments, theology, grief/loss, mathematics, history, various forms of therapy, community building and others; all of which are areas for research. Often by beginning with anecdotal evidence, it's possible to discover what topics may be fruitful for more formal research projects. An archive of labyrinth research, articles, and information for researchers is available on the TLS website. The Research Committee welcomes articles/papers about labyrinth research for inclusion in the archive. We respond to requests for information, answer questions and are a sounding board for prospective researchers. Soon we plan to highlight current research on a rotating basis.. For more information, questions, contributions, or to volunteer, please contact: research@labyrinthosociety.org

Following the TLS Annual Meeting on Fri., Sept. 25th, the Research Committee will host a Research Sharing Circle at 7:00-8:00 PM EST (USA). All with interests in labyrinth research are welcome to join for conversation and connection, to share research, projects and articles. There will be time to share research ideas in this time of pandemic, and virtual spaces, and a "door prize!" - a copy of Learning with the Labyrinth: Creating Reflective Space in Higher Education by Jan Sellers and Bernard Moss.

Social Media

For the past twenty years, The Labyrinth Society focused on in-person events centered around labyrinth walking, learning, and networking; activities supported by its website infrastructure and its limited social media presence. This focus changed when TLS created its 2018 vision and updated its Facebook Global Group page.

In order to reflect a greater emphasis on digital, virtual communication platforms, a more robust social media presence and ways to connect more easily with the worldwide labyrinth community were required. This has resulted in the creation of a WordPress website, a Worldwide Labyrinth Locator app, increased use of the ZOOM platform for virtual events, and a more robust approach to social media through Facebook and Instagram. While the worldwide labyrinth community has yet to use all of these new innovations, their launches are just around the corner and about to burst on the labyrinth community scene. TLS's commitment to supporting the global labyrinth community is growing as this community grows.

All TLS members are eligible and encouraged to propose Special Projects. Project organizers interface with TLS through the Special Projects chair and remain accountable to the TLS Board of Directors for the life of the project. All applications are made to the Special Projects chair and reviewed by the Special Projects committee. For some past projects that received Special Project status, or to obtain Special Project application forms, visit the TLS website.

Additionally, individuals who wish to participate may use a finger labyrinth, draw a labyrinth, or meditate the labyrinth pattern.

Encounters with Temporary Public Art Labyrinths

Presenters: Erica Duthie & Struan Ashby (New Zealand)

Artists Erica and Struan discuss their temporary hybrid ‘art-labyrinths’ and their unique potential as an invitation to ‘walk in community’ as part of public spaces and events. Unusual materials and methods including tape drawing, stenciling and painting will be demonstrated. We speak of our role as ‘kaitiaki’ (Maori for active hosts and custodians) who accompany our labyrinth installations. Hear the backstory of a recent socially distanced labyrinth created for our national museum to celebrate their reopening amidst the lifting of the Covid19 lockdown in New Zealand.

Erica Duthie and Struan Ashby are an international public art couple who specialize in developing ephemeral art and labyrinths as part of festivals, exhibitions and public events. They also facilitate socially engaged art projects as part of community residencies and run workshops as part of their community practice.

Their projects are characteristically novel and quirky in concept and in their use of unexpected and up-cycled materials. Their earliest work as forerunners of the now burgeoning field of Tape Art developed their skills as improv drawing performers and socially engaged art practitioners. They enjoy creating unexpected art experiences amidst public spaces that invite people to step figuratively into imaginary worlds, and literally into their activated walking art labyrinths. As artists who have a couple of decades of experience making and facilitating temporary public, Erica and Struan’s evolving labyrinth projects feature an open social engagement process in their creation and appreciation.

Come to the Annual Regional Rep Assembly and meet...

Kimberly Becker, CNA, one of our TLS Regional Reps in Florida, a Certified Veriditas labyrinth facilitator and employed as the Outreach Manager of a nationally recognized treatment center. Kimberly shows us that integrating the labyrinth into her work with substance use treatment and behavioral health is critical as she educates other healers on self-care and exploration. Walking the weaving paths of the labyrinth is similar to the 12 steps to recovery, making the 12 steps easily adaptable to a twelve-circuit labyrinth. Kimberly is a passionate strategic planner and imparts her vision to use labyrinths to change lives, shape communities, and be a positive impact in world healing. She formerly led Labyrinth Consultants for over 15 years, was contracted to produce the TLS educational video that is on the TLS website, and is now our special presenter sharing herself with us at our Annual Regional Rep meeting. Join us on September 27th, be filled and fueled with a greater understanding of how healing truly begins with the first step.

Please have a peek at her agenda: (God, Creator, Higher Power) Grant me the Serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can and the wisdom to know the difference.

Step 1 as we meet the Labyrinth let it take you on a walk of principle, greater understanding and spiritual awakening as a result of the 12 steps.

Learn how to adapt the circuits of the labyrinth to all the wisdom of the 12 recovery steps.

From letting go to the promise of serenity.

Align this with your own journey or that of your client or loved one.
